Japs Land More Troops On Isle Of Guadalcanal

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—American troops on battle-ridden Guadalcanal have called upon aerial and naval power to smash a newly-contrived Japanese vice threatening to close in on the island's strategic airfield.

While United States marines and soldiers, dive bombers and destroyers threw bullets, bombs and shells at the invaders westward of the airbase, Nipponese vessels made a new landing of troops to the east under cover of darkness.

This added peril to the American-held field, base of many an aerial attack on Japanese ships, troops and installations, was announced by Secretary of the Navy Knox yesterday shortly after he had cautioned the nation against any false optimism over the battle of the Solomons.

Australians Push Forward

Westward of the Solomons, however, Allied ground forces under Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Australian command continued to push the New Guinea invaders back toward the north coast.

MacArthur's headquarters, which yesterday announced capture of Kokoda, reported today (Australian time) that the Australian advance was still unchecked. Allied bombers raided the oft-battered Buin-Faisi area again.

Meanwhile, the Navy disclosed that destroyers bombarded the Japanese positions on Guadalcanal, west of the airfield, on November 1.

Soviets Improve Positions

Moscow, Nov. 4 (AP) — Soviet forces hold improved positions against German attacks in the battle of Stalingrad, and have dislodged the invaders from several heights in the western Caucasus counter-offensive, the Russians announced today.

Red Army troops ferried across the Volga by night were reported to have landed in the German rear above Stalingrad, diverting enemy forces from assaults on the north-side factory district.

Fresh divisions from Prussia and Saxony were moved up to assist in the Axis fight, field dispatches said.

On the central Caucasus front, the other theater of major operations, the Russian lines appeared to be stiffening.

Dispatches said the Germans advanced slightly again yesterday on one sector southeast of Nalchik, but no further Soviet withdrawals were mentioned in two successive communiques concerning the roundabout Nazi drive from Moxdok toward the heart of the south Caucasus.

Roundabout Drive Stopped

Although finally pushed back by powerful forces from a field army estimated at 50,000 men, the Russians held the southern suburbs of Nalchik four days before withdrawing to new lines.

Two successive communiques indicated, moreover, that the roundabout Nazi drive from Moxdok toward the heart of the south Caucasus finally had been stemmed by Red Army men southeast of Nalchik.

The noon communique announced that Soviet troops dislodged the Germans from a fortified position northeast of Tzupse in the western Caucasus campaign while others occupied several heights and beat off an enemy counterattack.

Stalingrad's garrison was credited with the recapture of several more strongholds in fierce fighting yesterday and subsequent assaults by the Germans were declared thrown back.

Red Star said the landing at the Nazi rear was made by a Red Army rifle formation which crossed to the west bank of the Volga aboard armored cutters and marched into the attack.

Move Beyond Kokoda

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Nov. 4 (AP)—Advance groups of the Allied Army in New Guinea have pushed nearly six miles beyond Kokoda, inland Japanese base captured Monday, and are approaching the village of Olivi on the road to the important Japanese coastal base at Buna, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The retreat of the Japanese toward Buna was continuing, the communique said, and there apparently was little fighting in the difficult New Guinea jungle country. There is a narrow road leading from Kokoda to Buna and the Allied supply problem was eased further because Kokoda has a small airfield permitting the landing of supply planes from Port Moresby, main Allied base in New Guinea.

Twins Drafted

The first twins to be drafted in Adams county were accepted for service in the United States Army at Harrisburg on Tuesday.

They are Charles Grayson Miller and Raymond Cecil Miller, both of 34½ Baltimore street. The youths were born on May 13, 1922, and are the sons of Mrs. Irene Miller, same address. Before being drafted they were employed at Mechanicsburg.

Both will report for Army duty at Fort George G. Meade on November 17.

Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., treasurer, reported a balance of $305.02 in the society funds.

30 PASS FINAL EXAMINATIONS FOR INDUCTION

Thirty registrants with Draft Board No. 2 in Gettysburg passed their physical examinations at Harrisburg on Tuesday preliminary to their induction into the United States Army.

The local board sent 36 men to Harrisburg for their examinations. Six were rejected.

Two colored registrants, Francis Watson Bosley, Washington street, and Mark Ray Selvey, recently transferred to Board No. 2 and were accepted for service on Tuesday. The former transferred from Board No. 2 at Newtown, Pa., and the latter from Board No. 3 at Princeton, West Virginia.

Gilliland Loses In Philadelphia

Edward P. Green, Democrat, was listed as the winner in the legislative contest in the 24th ward of Philadelphia in which his opponent was James P. Gilliland, formerly of Gettysburg and a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gilliland of Carlisle street.

Mr. Gilliland, who is an attorney, is a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1923. Green was one of 25 successful Democrats running for the Legislature in Philadelphia. Sixteen Republicans won in other Assembly contests in the city.

Congress Facing 'Teen Draft Issue

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—The pendulum of wartime home-front attention swung today from political trends and fortunes back to an impending showdown on Capitol Hill that some lawmakers contended would supply a gauge of Congressional faith in the nation's military leadership.

The issue was clearly drawn, in one question:

Will Congress, against the advice of President Roosevelt and those actually directing military operations, retain in the "teen-age draft bill" a stipulation, inserted by the Senate, that the 18-19 year-olds be held from combat until they have had a full year's training?

Congressional quarters heard that the Army would rather have no lowering of the draft age at all, if the legislation must pass with the rigid pre-combat requirement. There even were hints that such a requirement would result in a veto for the bill.

They Keep 'Em Straight

They "vote 'em straight" in the second district of Hamiltonban township.

On Tuesday 42 voters went to the polls in that mountainous precinct in southwestern Adams county. There were no "cut" tickets. Every democratic candidate on the ballot received 32 votes and every republican, 10 votes.

Their task greatly simplified, members of the election board were among the first to report at the court house Tuesday evening even though they had farther to travel to the county seat than most boards.

MARTIN LEAD SWELLS OVER 210,000 MARK

(By The Associated Press)

Philadelphia, Nov. 4 —Adjutant General Edward Martin, 63-year-old Washington, Pa., soldier, lawyer, banker and utilities executive, is Pennsylvania's war-time governor-elect—swept into office with a plurality which early today climbed past 210,000.

A smashing show of Republican strength elected all of Martin's running mates for state-wide offices and restored GOP control of both houses of the state Legislature.

Sixteen Republican congressmen, the number now serving, are known to be elected and the party expected final returns from other districts would show it had regained the edge in the state's 33-man delegation to the federal House.

Ross Pledges Aid

Martin's Democratic opponent, Auditor General F. Clair Ross, of Butler, conceded the election at 1:22 a. m. today at Harrisburg and pledged support to the World War I hero in the arsenal state's war effort.

Nearly complete returns showed barely 50 per cent of the state's 4,646,363 registered voters exercised voting rights after a campaign that aroused general interest only in its closing weeks.

The unofficial tabulation, with 7,798 of the state's 3,169 precincts reporting, gave:

Martin, 1,317,802; Ross, 1,107,161.

Martin carried all but 10 of the state's 67 counties. Ross won in Allegheny, Berks, Cambria, Columbia, Elk, Fayette, Fulton, Lackawanna, Westmoreland and Washington—the latter the victor's home county.

14 Solons Return

All of the state's 14 Republican congressmen up for reelection were returned to office, successfully weathering Democratic attacks on their pre-Pearl Harbor isolationist records.

The Republicans surge unseated two of Philadelphia's six Democratic congressmen, veterans Leon Sacks and Francis Smith, who lost to James Gallagher, Sr., and C. Frederick Fracht, GOP leaders of the metropolitan.

Rep. J. William Ditter, chairman of the Republican National Congressional committee, was among the Philadelphians reelected.

Soldier Vote May Decide 22nd Congressional Winner

Not until the official count of Tuesday's votes is made and the sealed ballots from men in the service of the United States are counted will the race of Congress in the York-Adams-Franklin district be determined definitely.

Unofficial tabulation of the votes cast Tuesday in the contest between Congressman Harry L. Haines, Democrat seeking re-election for his sixth term, and former Congressman Chester H. Gross, Republican, gave Gross a lead of 167 over Haines in the three counties.

The results of the election night count are:

	Haines	Gross
Adams	1,531	5,985
Franklin	6,183	9,078
York	33,441	19,082

VOTES IN COUNTY COST 23c A PIECE

The Adams county treasurer on Tuesday night paid out to members of the 42 election boards a total of $2,345.91 or at the rate of about 23 cents for each vote they counted.

Not all of the bills for election supplies have been received at the court house so that the total cost of the election could not be compiled today.

The busiest board in the county was that in the second ward of Gettysburg where 572 ballots were cast. The second largest number of votes for any district in the county was in the third ward where 516 persons voted. The smallest vote was recorded in the second district of Hamiltonban township where 42 ballots were cast.

OFFICIAL COUNTERS

C. C. Bream, first ward Democrat, and Theodore Lowe, Fairfield, Republican, were named by the Adams county commissioners this morning to assist them with the official count of Tuesday's election returns. The count begins at noon on Friday at the court house.

Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars, of Gettysburg, will address the Hanover Public Library Guild at its November meeting next Tuesday afternoon. Her subject will be "Conrad Weiser."

The governor-elect topped Ross in 31 of the county's 42 voting districts and upset tradition by placing in the Republican column five regularly Democratic districts in which the Democrats hold substantial majorities on the basis of registrations. The usually Democratic districts captured by Martin included Abbottstown, Franklin township, Hamilton township, the first ward of McSherrystown and Union township.

Political observers here agreed that one circumstance contributing to the Democratic defeat in this county was the fact that a much larger proportion of voters turned out in Republican than in Democratic districts. Some "rock-ribbed" Democratic precincts gave bare leads to the party candidates while most of them failed to deliver substantial leads that were expected of them.

10,320 Votes Cast

Records at the court house today showed that 10,320 ballots were cast in Adams county Tuesday. The vote represents 57 per cent of the 18,111 registered electors in the county, is larger than predicted but far below the record 88 per cent vote cast here in the last gubernatorial election in 1936.

Straight tickets were the rule and ticket "cutting" was at a minimum in both parties.

General Martin received 6,203 votes and F. Clair Ross, 4,139 in Adams county.

Other Tallies

The figures on the other state-wide candidates follow: Lieutenant governor, Kilroy, democrat, 4,104, and Bell, republican, 6,092; secretary of internal affairs, Hess, democrat, 4,016, and Litrengood, republican, 6,091; judge of the state Supreme (Please Turn to Page 7)

CARRIES 31 OF 42 PRECINCTS

Filling up a total of 5,857 votes, Francis Worley of near York Springs was elected to fill Adams county's only seat in the General Assembly at Harrisburg in Tuesday's voting. He defeated the democratic incumbent, George L. Baughner, Aspers nurseryman.

Baughner trailed Worley by 1,396 votes. His total was 4,461.

Worley carried 31 voting districts in the county and lost 10 to Baughner. In the first ward of McSherrystown both men received 94 votes.

The assemblyman-elect carried Gettysburg over Baughner by a vote of 1,087 to 828. He also was given a big lead in Baughner's home district, a republican stronghold, 310 to 128. In Worley's home district, Latimore township, also republican, the vote was Worley, 244, and Baughner, 58.

Baughner Leads Ticket

Worley's election helped the GOP wrest control of the lower house at Harrisburg from the democrats. Baughner represented Adams county there for the last two years.

Baughner was high man on the democratic ticket in Adams county topping Ross's vote by 322. Runner up was Congressman Harry L. Haines who received 4,351 ballots.

In Franklin county C. Frank Gillilan, a republican, was returned to the General Assembly for a third term by a substantial majority over his democratic opponent, Robert Schenkel.

Rites Held Today For Thomas J. Howe

Funeral services for Thomas Jefferson Howe, 66, Gardner's R. 2, who died suddenly Saturday evening from a heart attack, were held from the Routsong funeral home, Bendersville, this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock conducted by the Revs. Foster Group and R. WORLEY BEATS G. L. BAUGHNER FOR ASSEMBLY

Falling in step with the state and nation-wide victory swing by the G.O.P., Adams county Republicans turned out in much larger numbers than had been expected and handed General Edward Martin a majority of 2,064 over Auditor General F. Clair Ross for Governor in Tuesday's voting.

At the same time Adams countians gave majorities of close to 2,000 to all of the Republican state candidates and voted Chester H. Gross, Republican, a 1,634 lead over Congressman Harry L. Haines that enabled Gross to top Haines by 167 ballots in the York-Adams-Franklin district.

Defeat Baughner

The G.O.P. in this county won possession of this district's only seat in the lower house at Harrisburg by defeating Assemblyman George L. Baughner, Democrat, who sought a second term, and electing Francis Worley, young Latimore township Republican.

General Martin led the Republican ticket in the county and the state. He stepped into the lead with the reporting of the first district in this county shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday night and he and his running mates steadily forged ahead of the Democrats as the returns from the county's 42 districts were compiled.

Take For's Districts

The governor-elect topped Ross in 31 of the county's 42 voting districts and upset tradition by placing in the Republican column five regularly Democratic districts in which the Democrats hold substantial majorities on the basis of registrations. Congress Facing 'Teen Draft Issue

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—The pendulum of wartime home-front attention swung today from political trends and fortunes back to an impending showdown on Capitol Hill that some lawmakers contended would supply a gauge of Congressional faith in the nation's military leadership.

The issue was clearly drawn, in one question:

Will Congress, against the advice of President Roosevelt and those actually directing military operations, retain in the 'teen-age draft bill a stipulation, inserted by the Senate, that the 18-19 year-olds be held from combat until they have had a full year's training?

Congressional quarters heard that the Army would rather have no lowering of the draft age at all, if the legislation must pass with the rigid pre-combat requirement. There even were hints that such a requirement would result in a veto for the bill.

They Keep 'Em Straight

They "vote 'em straight" in the second district of Hamilton township.

On Tuesday 42 voters went to the polls in that mountainous precinct in southwestern Adams county. There were no "cut" tickets. Every democratic candidate on the ballot received 32 votes and every republican, 10 votes.

Their task greatly simplified, members of the election board were among the first to report at the court house Tuesday evening even though they had farther to travel to the county seat than most boards.

MARTIN LEAD SWELLS OVER 210,000 MARK

(By The Associated Press)

Philadelphia, Nov. 4—Adjutant General Edward Martin, 63-year-old Washington, Pa., soldier, lawyer, banker and utilities executive, is Pennsylvania's war-time governor-elect—swept into office with a plurality which early today climbed past 210,000.

A smashing show of Republican strength elected all of Martin's running mates for state-wide offices and restored GOP control of both houses of the state Legislature.

Sixteen Republican congressmen, the number now serving, are known to be elected and the party expected final returns from other districts would show it had regained the edge in the state's 33-man delegation to the federal House.

Ross Pledges Aid

Martin's Democratic opponent, Auditor General F. Clair Ross, of Butler, conceded the election at 1:22 a. m. today at Harrisburg and pledged support to the World War I hero in the arsenal state's war effort.

Nearly complete returns showed barely 50 per cent of the state's 4,648,363 registered voters exercised voting rights after a campaign that aroused general interest only in its closing weeks.

The unofficial tabulation, with 7,798 of the state's 8,169 precincts reporting, gave:

Martin, 1,317,802; Ross, 1,107,161.

Martin carried all but 10 of the state's 67 counties. Ross won in Allegheny, Berks, Cambria, Columbia, Elk, Fayette, Fulton, Lackawanna, Westmoreland and Washington—the latter the victor's home county.

14 Solons Return

All of the state's 14 Republican congressmen up for reelection were returned to office, successfully weathering Democratic attacks on their pre-Pearl Harbor isolationist records.

The Republicans surge unseated two of Philadelphia's six Democratic congressmen, veterans Leon Sacks and Francis Smith, who lost to James Gallagher, Sr., and C. Frederick Pracht, GOP leaders of the metropolis.

Rep. J. William Dittler, chairman of the Republican National Congressional committee, was among the Philadelphians reelected.

The Republican dean of the Pennsylvania delegation, James E. Wolfenden, of Delaware county, won in the toughest ballot battle of his career, defeating Prof. Vernon O'Weiser.

Soldier Vote May Decide 22nd Congressional Winner

Not until the official count of Tuesday's votes is made and the sealed ballots from men in the service of the United States are counted will the race of Congress in the York-Adams-Franklin district be determined definitely.

Unofficial tabulation of the votes cast Tuesday in the contest between Congressman Harry L. Haines, Democrat seeking re-election for his sixth term, and former Congressman Chester H. Gross, Republican, gave Gross a lead of 167 over Haines in the three counties.

The results of the election night count are:

	Haines	Gross
Adams	4,351	5,985
Franklin	6,183	9,078
York	23,444	19,992
Totals	33,978	34,145

The number of military ballots to be counted was not certain today. The ballots may yet arrive by mail and will be counted if they bear postmarks of November 3 or an earlier date.

In Adams county 138 military ballots were mailed out to soldiers but so far there have only been 77 returned. In York county the number of returned ballots was said to be small although nearly 200 were mailed out to the soldiers. In Franklin county about 85 were mailed out but one report from Chambersburg stated that "only about a half dozen" have been filled out and returned.

In this county the Republican nominee for Congress carried Gettysburg's four voting districts and 27 precincts in the county. He took an early lead here as the first returns were received and continued to build up a margin as the various sections of the county were heard from.

VOTES IN COUNTY COST 23c APIECE CARRIES 31 OF 42 PRECINCTS

The Adams county treasurer on Tuesday night paid out to members of the 42 election boards a total of $2,345.91 or at the rate of about 23 cents for each vote they counted. Not all of the bills for election supplies have been received at the court house so that the total cost of the election could not be compiled today.

The busiest board in the county was that in the second ward of Gettysburg where 572 ballots were cast. The second largest number of votes for any district in the county was in the third ward here where 516 persons voted. The smallest vote was recorded in the second district of Hamilton township where 42 ballots were cast.

OFFICIAL COUNTERS

C. C. Bream, first ward Democrat, and Theodore Lowe, Fairfield, Republican, were named by the Adams county commissioners this morning to assist them with the official count of Tuesday's election returns. The count begins at noon on Friday at the court house.

Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars, of Gettysburg, will address the Hanover Public Library Guild at its November meeting next Tuesday afternoon. Her subject will be "Conrad Weiser."

Baughner Leads Ticket

Worley's election helped the GOP wrest control of the lower house at Harrisburg from the democrats. Baughner represented Adams county there for the last two years.

Baughner was high man on the democratic ticket in Adams county topping Ross's vote by 322. Runner up was Congressman Harry L. Haines who received 4,351 ballots.

In Franklin county C. Frank Gillan, a republican, was returned to the General Assembly for a third term by a substantial majority over his democratic opponent, Robert Schenkel.

Rites Held Today For Thomas J. Howe

Funeral services for Thomas Jefferson Howe, 66, Gardners R. 2, who died suddenly Saturday evening from a heart attack, were held from the Routsong funeral home, Bendersville, this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock conducted by the Revs. Foster Group and R. L. Lundy. Interment in the Bendersville cemetery.

The pallbearers were Gilbert Marks, John Marks, Elmer Delp, William Bream, Ellis Frost and Edward Troup.

Mrs. Howard Mackelduff has returned to her home at West Chester after a visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Hartman, Springs avenue.

WORLEY BEATS G. L. BAUGHNER FOR ASSEMBLY

Falling in step with the state and nation-wide victory swing by the G.O.P., Adams county Republicans turned out in much larger numbers than had been expected and handed General Edward Martin a majority of 2,064 over Auditor General F. Clair Ross for Governor in Tuesday's voting.

At the same time Adams countians gave majorities of close to 2,000 to all of the Republican state candidates and voted Chester H. Gross, Republican, a 1,634 lead over Congressman Harry L. Haines that enabled Gross to top Haines by 167 ballots in the York-Adams-Franklin district.

Defeat Baughner

The G.O.P. in this county won possession of this district's only seat in the lower house at Harrisburg by defeating Assemblyman George L. Baughner, Democrat, who sought a second term, and electing Francis Worley, young Latimore township Republican.

General Martin led the Republican ticket in the county and the state. He stepped into the lead with the reporting of the first district in this county shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday night and he and his running mates steadily forged ahead of the Democrats as the returns from the county's 42 districts were compiled.

Take For Districts

The governor-elect topped Ross in 31 of the county's 42 voting districts and upset tradition by placing in the Republican column five regularly Democratic districts in which the Democrats hold substantial majorities on the basis of registrations. The usually Democratic districts captured by Martin included Abbotstown, Franklin township, Hamilton township, the first ward of McSherrystown and Union township.

Political observers here agreed that one circumstance contributing to the Democratic defeat in this county was the fact that a much larger proportion of voters turned out in Republican than in Democratic districts. Some "rock-ribbed" Democratic precincts gave bare leads to the party candidates while most of them failed to deliver substantial leads that were expected of them.

10,320 Votes Cast

Records at the court house today showed that 10,320 ballots were cast in Adams county Tuesday. The vote represents 87 per cent of the 18,111 registered electors in the county, is larger than predicted but far below the record 88 per cent vote cast here in the last gubernatorial election in 1938.

Straight tickets were the rule and ticket "cutting" was at a minimum in both parties.

General Martin received 6,203 votes and F. Clair Ross, 4,139 in Adams county.

Other Tallies

The figures on the other state-wide candidates follow: Lieutenant governor, Kilroy, democrat, 4,104, and Bell, republican, 6,092; secretary of internal affairs, Hess, democrat, 4,076, and Livengood, republican, 6,091; judge of the state Supreme Court, (Please Turn to Page 7)

ALLIES STRIVE TO CRUSH FOE IN DESERT AREA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

London, Nov. 4.—With Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's break through Marshal Rommel's left wing, the battle of Egypt is swelling rapidly toward the crisis of what may be the decisive engagement in the struggle for control of the Mediterranean area.

This is no time for prophecy but the nature of Montgomery's assault and the strength apparently massed behind it warrant the belief that he is aiming at the big target—destruction of the Axis in northern Africa.

Keep your eye on this battle. We should not let the slowness of movement in the opening days of this great struggle blind us to the fact that it represents one of the major conflicts of the whole war.

To Destroy Foe
The British commander is going about his task the direct and the hard way. However, his method is calculated to bring him the best results and his immediate objective is the destruction of Marshal Rommel's Tank Corps.

These steel monsters are the Nazi marshal's locks of Samson. Once he is short of them, his strength will be largely reduced.

True, is Montgomery's drive goes well—and it appears to be proceeding satisfactorily thus far—he may expect sensational developments.

One of these is likely to be a desperate effort by Hitler to save his servant by rushing air reinforcements to him.

And it may be assumed that the Allied high command has not just thrown Montgomery into this whirlpool and left him to sink or swim without further aid.

However, the battle still is in its early stages and we need to see more before we start counting chickens.

What has happened is this:

Frontal Attack
Montgomery suddenly flung an infantry attack—preceded by heavy bombardment from artillery and the air and followed by tanks—against one of the strongest points in Rommel's left flank.

Such a frontal attack is one of the most difficult operations in warfare. It is necessary for the infantry to lead the way because it will be suicidal to throw tanks directly against heavy artillery before the troops had broken the trail.

The ferocity of the British attack resulted in a break-through on a front of some 4,000 yards. There was bitter hand-to-hand fighting among strong Axis positions.

Rommel rushed a fleet of tanks into action in an effort to stem the advance, but the Allied Air Force, which presumably included many American warplanes, smashed the concentration and sent those tanks which were not destroyed rushing for safety.

Selects Terrain
Montgomery had chosen this strong sector for his attack because the ground was suitable for tanks. His tactics were rewarded when the infantry finally wrested Tel El Akaki—the hill of the wicked—from the enemy. This strategically important ridge and the firmer terrain about it are better adapted to tank maneuvers than the shifting sands in other sectors.

Naturally, with this increase in freedom of movement for armored forces, a big tank battle developed.

This is precisely the situation which Montgomery is aiming to create. As already indicated, his object is not to drive Axis forces back, but to catch them and utterly destroy them.

Should things go well with the Allied attack, a break-through may develop into flank movements which will result in the encirclement and annihilation of large forces of the enemy unless Rommel can avoid such traps.

Here we shouldn't forget that the Nazi marshal is one of the shrewdest captains in the war. You can't say that he is beaten until you have his scalp actually at your belt.

Find Cache of 1100 Unregistered Tires

Pittsburgh, Nov. 4 (AP)—Office of Price Administration investigators reported discovery of a cache of 1,100 unregistered used tires they said a western Pennsylvania tire dealer had hidden in an isolated spot but the OPA said completion of the investigation and arrest of the dealer may take two weeks.

Louis G. Feldman, chief OPA investigator, said about 12 complaints of illegal tire sales involving only one or two tires each had been received. He warned motorists who give away or sell excess tires instead of turning them into the government were liable to fines up to $10,000 and 10 years' imprisonment.

AXIS GLOATING BACKFIRES AS KOKODA FALLS

Madrid, Nov. 4 (AP)—The fall of the little jungle village of Kokoda, which only a handful of Europeans ever had heard of until this summer, has had a tremendous effect on Europe—thanks to Axis propaganda before the tide turned against the Japanese on New Guinea.

Back in September, when the Germans became touchy about emphasizing "the last moments of Stalingrad" in their news releases and broadcasts, they began to give a big play to the Japanese offensive in New Guinea.

Under a Tokyo dateline they cited Japanese dispatches from Kokoda, describing it as a "Japanese base on the Australian front," told how the Japanese had General MacArthur on the run and explained it was only a matter of days until Port Moresby fell and the Japanese pounced upon northern Australia.

Axis Gloating Fades
But German propaganda now has come home to roost.

No maps appear in the German press—nor does the name of Kokoda. But small items were in the neutral press reporting Kokoda's fall and London and New York were heard broadcasting announcements of its capture.

This news was the last straw necessary to swing many doubting Thomases to the conviction that the Japanese were on the defensive. A change has come almost all at once.

The British are attacking on the African front; the U. S. Marines not only still are on Guadalcanal but actually are attacking; and finally the Japanese have lost the outstanding dateline of their Pacific war.

The result: Continental peoples are beginning to talk of things Berlin would prefer to squelch.

MOVIE STARS LOSE GLAMOR IN PAY SLASH

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—Behind the closed doors of the Internal Revenue bureau, a handful of Hollywood higher-ups today faced a dilemma more fearsome than any they ever filmed.

For there, in a little plot that might be called "The 25-Grand Net Take," the Treasury's salary stabilization strategists were scrubbing a lot of glitter and gilt off the legendary movielead.

And while most of the script still was secret after more than three days of secluded study, bits of dialogue drifting out hinted definitely that Hollywood no longer could live in the style to which it had become accustomed—unless it dipped into past earnings.

Economic Director James F. Byrnes set the stage with his stabilization order limiting salaries to $25,000 net a year—but that "net" left reason to hope for many deductions.

Slash Deductions
Then the camera swung to assistant Treasury Secretary John L. Sullivan who said the flicker folks couldn't deduct the 10 per cent they pay their agents, their high cost of living, their varied personal "business" expenses or the rent on those 25-room houses in Beverly Hills. It's no secret that if some stars subtracted those expenses from $25,000, there would be nothing left but a deficit.

Sullivan also said that if an actor exceeded the limit in one year, all film firms who contributed to his total salary would be equal violators—even those who paid him big money before he topped the 25 grand. Which is why some top-notch lawyers have appeared on the scene here as supporting characters.

Hospital Report
Mrs. Emma Cool, 72, Gardners R. 2, was admitted to the Warner hospital this morning in the ambulance following a fall down a stairway in which she received a severe laceration of the head. X-ray pictures were to be taken this afternoon in order to determine whether any fracture resulted.

Mrs. Robert T. Eyler, Taneytown, and Mrs. Edward Taylor, 149 East Middle street, have been admitted as patients. Those discharged were Howard Foreman, Taneytown R. 2; Mrs. William Breighner, New Oxford; Mrs. Charles Champlain and infant son, Charles John, South Washington street, and Clarence Fair, Gettysburg R. ## Propose Colony For Jews In Palestine

Boston, Nov. 4 (AP)—The New England and Greater Boston Jewish National Fund conference has voted to establish a Jewish colony—to be named "Massachusetts"—in Palestine after the war.

The colony would be a haven for demobilized soldiers and refugees. More than 1,000 delegates attended the conference, held Sunday on the 25th anniversary of the Balfour declaration, which paved the way for colonization of Palestine.

CHILE MOVES AGAINST SPIES

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 4 (AP)—Latin American pressure upon Axis agencies was tightened today by a series of developments and it was learned that the government of neutral Chile would ask for emergency legislation soon to combat espionage.

Anti-spy action was said to be planned at the special session of the Congress opening November 15.

Over Chilean objections, the Inter-American committee for political defense of the hemisphere voted 5-to-1 at Montevideo yesterday to publish a Washington memorandum charging that a Nazi spy ring had sent detailed military information from Chile to Germany and had sought by bribery to obtain secrets concerning the Panama Canal.

Interior Minister Paul Morales asserted today that publication of the memorandum was "contrary to the interests of the continental defense" and would interfere with investigations directed by President Juan Antonio Rios.

"I wish to state categorically," the minister said, "that the government of Chile has investigated with exactness and quickness every accusation made of any activities contrary to the clear policy of the president of the republic, aimed at the end that neither the territory nor the jurisdictional waters of Chile will be used for activities against the American countries."

Wolfenden, who has served 14 years, had the support of former State Senator John J. McClure, a Republican power, while O'Rourke ran with labor backing and with his own students campaigning in his behalf.

Woman Defeated

Inez B. Peel of Pittsburgh, Democratic nominee for congress-at-large and the only woman on the statewide ticket, lost to Republican William I. Troutman of Shamokin.

John C. Bell, Jr., of Wynnewood, 50-year-old state secretary of banking, was elevated to the lieutenant-governorship in the Republican sweep and thus becomes the man who automatically would succeed General Martin as governor in the event of Martin's death in office. He defeated Elmer Kilroy, 49, Democratic speaker of the state House.

William S. Livengood, Jr., 42, of Somerset, a World war veteran, was reelected state secretary of internal affairs, defeating 33-year-old Warren K. Hess, Reading lawyer and former state assemblyman.

Republicans made sweeping gains in the state Legislature and early returns showed the voters had heeded Martin's request for a working majority to carry out his party's legislative program.

Will Regulate Price Of Drinks

Philadelphia, Nov. 4 (AP)—The state Office of Price Administration warned today it will prosecute tavern operators who raise the price of drinks more than the cent or two required to cover the new federal excise tax.

Joe Gordon, Yank Infielder, Selected As Most Valuable Player In American Loop

TED WILLIAMS PLACES SECOND FOR TOP HONOR

By JUDSON BAILEY

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—Joe Gordon, the great second baseman of the New York Yankees, has been named the most valuable player of the American league for 1942, preserving the tradition that this coveted annual award usually goes to a member of the pennant-winning club.

Gordon's performance this year was the best in his five seasons with the Yankees, and he unquestionably was a powerful factor in the Bombers winning their sixth pennant in seven years.

However, the difference between his value to the Yankees and the value to lanky Ted Williams to the second place Boston Red Sox was open to controversy.

Gordon was given 12 first place votes and received a total of 270 points while Williams, winner of the "triple crown" for leading the league in batting, home runs and runs batted in, finished with nine first place votes and 249 points.

The Boston slugger might have done better except for some competition from one of his own teammates, Johnny Pesky, the rookie shortstop star, who polled two first place votes and 143 points. The other first place ballot was cast for a rookie shortstop, Vernon (Junior) Stephens, of the St. Louis Browns, who rated fourth, three points behind Pesky. Williams also ran a close second in 1941 to Joe DiMaggio of the Yanks and although his batting average sloughed off from .406 to .353 this season, his all-around play in many respects was better than last year.

DiMaggio dropped to seventh in the committee's rating of American league players with pitchers Ernie Bonham of the Yanks and Tex Hughes of the Red Sox above him.

Others in the top ten selections were Stan Spence of Washington, Phil Marchildon of the Philadelphia Athletics and Lou Boudreau of Cleveland.

SPORT SHORTS

Brooklyn, Nov. 4 (AP)—Halfback Billy Jefferson of the Brooklyn Dodgers was under suspension today for infraction of training rules and the club disclosed it had asked waivers on him. Jefferson, former Mississippi State star, was acquired from the Philadelphia Eagles three weeks ago to replace Rhoten Shetley, now in the Army.

Chicago, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Joseph L. Gillis bowling team broke a few records when they posted a three game score of 3,424, but had to be satisfied with winning only two matches.

Led by Adolph Carlson, veteran kiegler, the Gillis marked up scores of 1,011, 1,213 and 1,200, but lost the first match by two pins. The five game total was the second highest series nationally this season, topped only by the Milwaukee Barkows 3,518.

Carlson had games of 234, 269 and 293 to lead the individual scoring with 791. The other four didn't exactly miss, the lowest score being 613. Others were 662, 664 and 664. Of the 15 games, only three were below 200—one a close 199.

Chicago, Nov. 4 (AP)—Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, Northwestern's basketball coach, today was named for the third straight year to direct the College All Stars in their November 28 game against Oshkosh's pro game champions in the Chicago stadium.

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—From somewhere in the Pacific war zone Sgt. Max E. R. Effer fires a V-mail broadside in this direction upholding the "small college" brand of basketball—particularly that played in the Kansas City National Intercollegiate tournament over the kind supported by the "big" schools. . . . As a clincher, Missouri Max writes: "The second and third weeks of the second march following the end of the war, you are invited to be my house and tournament guest for the two national classics. Come out to see and decide for yourself." . . . That speaks volumes for the confidence of a soldier and basketball fan and we hope we can accept.

Letters To The Editor

The Gettysburg Times,

Dear Sir:

Well here I am again and glad I can write to you. It hardly seems possible that I am in this strange country, for just the other day I was a little boy. So life zooms on. And now I am in the armed forces of our country. I, as well as others, will be called upon to make sacrifices. Our friends back home know that we will do our bit and best fighting to preserve the freedom which our forefathers gained in the Revolutionary War, and the Union which our "Boys in Blue" preserved in the Civil War.

Herbert Hoover said when welcoming visiting French fliers, September 8, 1890, "There are no limits to the courage of men and there are no limits to what that courage can accomplish."

May we always have courage to meet the need of the hour. And may we find strength in the God who guides the destinies of men and nations. These are the prayers of my friends, coupled with a faith that God will guide us, protect us and save us.

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. George C. Mitchell, Jr.

REFEREE LAUDS PASSING STARS OF TULSA TEAM

Kansas City, Nov. 4 (AP)—Football Official Earl Jones has been close enough to peek over their shoulders. So it means something when he says there are at least three good reasons why the unbeaten, unscored on Tulsa university footballers have pined up 250 points.

His reasons are the three Tulsa pass perfectionists at tailback, listed here in their usual order of appearance: (1) Glenn Dobbs, (2) N. A. Keithley and (3) Clyde LeForce. Jones, a bald little gent who has manned the whistle in two of Tulsa's games, declares: "Any team would be happy with just one of these passers. It's doubtful if you will ever find three as fine on the same team."

Dobbs is the main line tailback. The game with Washington university of St. Louis offers the best example of his work. He tried 10 passes, completed all of them for 107 yards and three touchdowns.

Lauded by Joe His kicking and passing were equally breath-taking. Coach Tom Gorman of Washington gasped after the 40-0 trouncing: "In my time I've seen many of the great backs, Cagle of the Army, Schwartz of Notre Dame and many others. But on this night Dobbs was better than any of them."

Dobbs was hurt early in the Oklahoma game, so Keithley took over. He passed for 186 yards, including one touchdown, then rammed over another himself as the Sooners swooned, 23-0.

And then there's LeForce, only a sophomore. Against Drake last week he scored a couple of touchdowns, heading a passing and running attack that collected 435 yards to win, 40-0. He also kicked four extra points to bring his season's conversion total to 31.

Fail To Cremate School Principal

Sanborn, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—Sanborn residents are seeking a building to house 67 pupils, left without classrooms by a fire which destroyed their schoolhouse and which evidently was set to cremate their principal.

The two-story, 50-year-old school burned Monday night. The principal, Milton Gurvitz, 22 told state police the blaze was started by two hooded, armed men who, he said, left him bound and gagged in the building before setting a match to alcohol which he reported they sprinkled on the floor.

Gurvitz was quoted by state police Inspector Eugene F. Hoyt as saying he had received two notes last week telling him to get out of town. One of them Hoyt asserted, was signed "100 per cent American" and the other, unsigned, said "we don't want a Jew around."

SCRAP DRIVE TOPS GOAL IN ADAMS COUNTY

With reports on the school scrap campaign not yet complete, Adams county has gone "over the top" in the Scrap Harvest drive with a per capita collection of 107.7 pounds. O. H. Benson, county salvage chairman, reported to the state salvage headquarters at Harrisburg Tuesday. He announced 2,041 1/2 tons have been collected in this county during September and October which entitles the county to a "Victory" banner to be flown over the court house.

The Scrap Harvest drive of the last two months brings salvage collections to date in Adams county up to 2,739 1/2 tons dating from the first collections months ago, Mr. Benson reported.

Figures for the September and October collection include only a small part of the school scrap and do not include the 262 tons of scrap metal gathered by the National Park force or large pieces of machinery donated by two local industries, Mr. Benson said. That is at the rate of 136.97 pounds for every person in Adams county.

Chairmen Benson reported. All of the figures have been compiled on the basis of reports submitted to Mr. Benson by 24 community scrap committee chairmen throughout the county and from junk dealers in this county and nearby counties that make scrap collections in Adams county.

Chairman Benson declared that Adams countians are becoming more interested in the junk drive and now are beginning to turn in usable but non-essential metal such as book-ends and ornamental pieces. In a number of communities where it was believed that earlier drives had harvested all the scrap, industrious committees found much that had been missed in the previous campaigns. One such community was cited by Mr. Benson who said that at New Oxford early drives had netted 11 tons but when a Lions club committee headed by Preston Dahlmeyer pressed the Scrap Harvest drive an additional 22 1/2 tons of scrap were found.

Crossroads Drive But the close of the Scrap Harvest campaign does not mark the end of the scrap collection drive in Adams county, Mr. Benson said today. The Crossroads Salvage drive, intended to gather quantities of scrap metal from county farms, is underway and reached its most intensive stage today with Adams Electric Cooperative employees and trucks handling the bulk of the work. C. A. Cluck, Cooperative superintendent, is directing the rural collection with the Cooperative's 1,400 rural members serving as "committees of one" to locate scrap in their neighborhoods.

Standing salvage committees in county communities were asked to contact the three American Legion posts in the county and ask that they cooperate with the state American Legion drive to take "jalopies" off the road and onto the scrap heap, thereby creating an important source of critical metals for the war effort.

Hockey Circuit Begins 2nd Week

(By The AP)

The New Haven Eagles and the Washington Lions will be seeking their first victories of the 1942-43 American league hockey season tonight as the circuit swings into its second week of play with three games on the evening's card.

The Eagles meet the Indianapolis Capitals at New Haven and Washington entertains the Providence Reds, with the home club looking for the first triumph in four starts. The Hershey Bears, unbeaten in three battles and leading the Eastern division, will tangle with the tail-end Pittsburgh Hornets of the Western division at Pittsburgh.

The Eastern half of the circuit still will have the Bears at its head come Thursday morning. Hershey has a four point advantage over the second place Reds and could lose no more than half of that margin tonight.

Standing salvage committees are asked to add women to help with the silk, rayon and nylon drive. Legionnaires to handle the "jalopy" campaign, and Adams Electric members to help with the Crossroads salvage drive.

Mr. Benson repeated Tuesday that the collection of tin cans has not begun in Adams county but so far has been limited to cities of 25,000 or more residents. There are no facilities here for handling the cans, he said.

ASSERTS HESS OFFERED PACT

London, Nov. 4 (AP)—Sir Patrick Dollan, who was lord provost (mayor) of Glasgow when Rudolf Hess parachuted down upon Scotland in May, 1941, was quoted by the London Daily Mail today as saying the Nazi came as an "official ambassador" with peace terms that would have made Great Britain in effect a German colony.

Sir Patrick did not give the source of his information and authoritative sources declined to comment on his statement.

Hess landed near Glasgow following his flight from Germany and was in a Glasgow hospital for a time but it was not disclosed whether Sir Patrick saw him.

German Grab "Hess had no documentary terms," the Daily Mail quoted Sir Patrick as saying, "but he indicated in conversation that all previous German colonies were to be returned to Germany and that Great Britain was to give up her military, naval and RAF strength. She also was to pay indemnity and was to be left with an RAF to protect the British Isles."

Germany, he said, was also to get the Atlantic coast of West Africa, Syria, Palestine and other territories; Italy and Germany would share control of the Suez canal, Italy would get Corsica and Tunis; and Spain would gain Gibraltar and French Morocco.

Joe Gordon, Yank Infielder, Selected As Most Valuable Player In American Loop

TED WILLIAMS PLACES SECOND FOR TOP HONOR

By JUDSON BAILEY

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—Joe Gordon, the great second baseman of the New York Yankees, has been named the most valuable player of the American league for 1942, preserving the tradition that this coveted annual award usually goes to a member of the pennant-winning club.

Gordon's performance this year was the best in his five seasons with the Yankees, and he unquestionably was a powerful factor in the Bombers winning their sixth pennant in seven years.

However, the difference between his value to the Yankees and the value to lanky Ted Williams to the second place Boston Red Sox was open to controversy. Gordon was given 12 first place votes and received a total of 270 points while Williams, winner of the "triple crown" for leading the league in batting, home runs and runs batted in, finished with nine first place votes and 249 points.

Pesky Recognized
The Boston slugger might have done better except for some competition from one of his own teammates, Johnny Pesky, the rookie shortstop star, who polled two first place votes and 143 points. The other first place ballot was cast for a rookie shortstop, Vernon (Junior) Stephens, of the St. Louis Browns, who rated fourth, three points behind Pesky. Williams also ran a close second in 1941 to Joe DiMaggio of the Yanks and although his batting average sloughed off from .406 to .353 this season, his all-around play in many respects was better than last year.

DiMaggio dropped to seventh in the committee's rating of American league players with pitchers Ernie Bonham of the Yanks and Tex Hughson of the Red Sox above him. Others in the top ten selections were Stan Spence of Washington, Phil Marchildon of the Philadelphia Athletics and Lou Boudreau of Cleveland.

SPORT SHORTS

Brooklyn, Nov. 4 (AP)—Halfback Billy Jefferson of the Brooklyn Dodgers was under suspension today for infraction of training rules and the club disclosed it had asked waivers on him. Jefferson, former Mississippi State star, was acquired from the Philadelphia Eagles three weeks ago to replace Rhoten Shetley, now in the Army.

Chicago, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Joseph L. Gills bowling team broke a few records when they posted a three game score of 3,424, but had to be satisfied with winning only two matches.

Led by Adolph Carlson, veteran knegler, the Gills marked up scores of 1,011, 1,213 and 1,200, but lost the first match by two pins. The five game total was the second high series nationally this season, topped only by the Milwaukee Barkows 3,518.

Carlson had games of 234, 269 and 288 to lead the individual scoring with 791. The other four didn't exactly miss, the lowest score being 643. Others were 662, 664 and 664. Of the 15 games, only three were below 200—one a close 199.

Chicago, Nov. 4 (AP)—Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, Northwestern's basketball coach, today was named for the third straight year to direct the College All Stars in the November 28 game against Oshkosh's pro game champions in the Chicago stadium.

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—From somewhere in the Pacific war zone Sgt. Max E. R. Elfer fires a V-mail broadside in this direction upholding the "small college" brand of basketball—particularly that played in the Kansas City National Intercollegiate tournament over the kind supported by the "big" schools. . . . As a clincher, Missouri Max writes: "The second and third weeks of the second march following the end of the war, you are invited to be my house and tournament guest for the two national classics. ## Letters To The Editor

The Gettysburg Times,
Dear Sir:

Well here I am again and glad I can write to you. It hardly seems possible that I am in this strange county, for just the other day I was a little boy. So life zooms on. And now I am in the armed forces of our country. I, as well as others, will be called upon to make sacrifices. Our friends back home know that we will do our bit and best fighting to preserve the freedom which our forefathers gained in the Revolutionary War, and the Union which our "Boys in Blue" preserved in the Civil War.

Herbert Hoover said when welcoming visiting French fliers, September 8, 1930, "There are no limits to the courage of men and there are no limits to what that courage can accomplish."

May we always have courage to meet the need of the hour. And may we find strength in the God who guides the destinies of men and nations. These are the prayers of my friends, coupled with a faith that God will guide us, protect us and save us.

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. George C. Mitchell, Jr.

REFEREE LAUDS PASSING STARS OF TULSA TEAM

Kansas City, Nov. 4 (AP)—Football Official Earl Jones has been close enough to peek over their shoulders. So it means something when he says there are at least three good reasons why the unbeaten, unscored on Tulsa university footballers have piled up 296 points.

His reasons are the three Tulsa pass perfectionists at tailback, listed here in their usual order of appearance: (1) Glenn Dobbs, (2) N. A. Keithley and (3) Clyde LeForce. Jones, a bald little gent who has manned the whistle in two of Tulsa's games, declares: "Any team would be happy with just one of these passers. It's doubtful if you will ever find three as fine on the same team."

Dobbs is the main line tailback. The game with Washington university of St. Louis offers the best example of his work. He tried 10 passes, completed all of them for 167 yards and three touchdowns.

Lauded by Foe
His kicking and passing were equally breath-taking. Coach Tom Gorman of Washington gasped after the 40-0 trouncing: "In my time I've seen many of the great backs, Cagle of the Army, Schwartz of Notre Dame and many others. But on this night Dobbs was better than any of them."

Dobbs was hurt early in the Oklahoma game, so Keithley took over. He passed for 186 yards, including one touchdown, then rammed over another himself as the Sooners swooned, 23-0.

And then there's LeForce, only a sophomore. Against Drake last week he scored a couple of touchdowns, heading a passing and running attack that collected 435 yards to win, 40-0. He also kicked four extra points to bring his season's conversion total to 31.

Fail To Cremate School Principal
Sanborn, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—Sanborn residents are seeking a building to house 87 pupils, left without classrooms by a fire which destroyed their schoolhouse and which evidently was set to cremate their principal.

The two-story, 50-year-old school burned Monday night. The principal, Milton Gurvitz, 22 told state police the blaze was started by two hooded, armed men who, he said, left him bound and gagged in the building before setting a match to alcohol which he reported they sprinkled on the floor.

Gurvitz was quoted by state police Inspector Eugene F. Hoyt as saying he had received two notes last week telling him to get out of town. One of them Hoyt, asserted, was signed "100 per cent American" and the other, unsigned, said "we don't want a Jew around."

Cairo, Nov. 4 (AP)—British tanks in force have clashed with Field Marshal Rommel's vaunted African corps in the biggest tank battle of the 12-day old Allied drive in Egypt with fighting swirling around Tel El Akaki—the hill of wicked men—where the British infantry assault has knifed 16 miles deep into the Axis defense zone.

Fryburg, Pa., Nov. 4 (AP)—A family of six perished early Tuesday in a fire that destroyed their frame bungalow on the Fryburg-Lucinda road, 3½ miles east of this Clarion county community and about 15 miles west of Oil City.

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—Navy Secretary Knox and Elmer Davis, director of War Information, jointly issued a statement Tuesday declaring that the Navy department had made public "as much as they knew, as soon as they knew it" regarding the sinking of a United States aircraft carrier in the south Pacific October 26.

The Navy has not identified the carrier, announcing its name would not be revealed until the next of kin of those lost had been notified. The Navy said most of its complement was believed saved.

Safe Harbor, Pa., Nov. 4 (AP)—One man was killed and 120,000 gallons of gasoline and fuel oil became a blazing inferno, visible for 20 miles, when a Pennsylvania railroad freight train hit a rockslide just east of this Lancaster county town early Tuesday morning.

Pearl Harbor, Nov. 4 (AP)—American naval guns sank two and possibly nine Japanese warships in the Solomons the night of Oct. 11-12 in an engagement described here by Captain Ernest Gregor Small as "a hell of a melee" which completely surprised the enemy.

Somewhere in New Guinea, Nov. 2 (Delayed) (AP)—The southwest Pacific land and air commands sent congratulations today to all ranks of the Allied army in New Guinea "on their magnificent efforts leading to the capture of Kokoda," as tough mountain troops pushed on after the retreating Japanese on the road to Buna.

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—The War and Navy departments are going to be housed under one roof, Secretary of the Navy Knox announced today. He said that the Navy had accepted an invitation from Secretary of War Stimson to move into the War department's huge new pentagon building across the Potomac river in Suburban Virginia, which was designed to house 35,000 or more federal workers.

SCRAP DRIVE TOPS GOAL IN ADAMS COUNTY

With reports on the school scrap campaign not yet complete, Adams county has gone "over the top" in the Scrap Harvest drive with a per capita collection of 167.7 pounds, O. H. Benson, county salvage chairman, reported to the state salvage headquarters at Harrisburg Tuesday. He announced 2,041½ tons have been collected in this county during September and October which entitles the county to a "Victory" banner to be flown over the court house.

The Scrap Harvest drive of the last two months brings salvage collections to date in Adams county up to 2,739½ tons dating from the first collections months ago, Mr. Benson reported.

Figures for the September and October collection include only a small part of the school scrap and do not include the 262 tons of scrap metal gathered by the National Park force or large pieces of machinery donated by two local industries, Mr. Benson said. That is at the rate of 136.97 pounds for every person in Adams county.

Chairmen Report
All of the figures have been compiled on the basis of reports submitted to Mr. Benson by 24 community scrap committee chairmen throughout the county and from junk dealers in this county and nearby counties that make scrap collections in Adams county.

Chairman Benson declared that Adams countians are becoming more interested in the junk drive and now are beginning to turn in usable but non-essential metal such as book-ends and ornamental pieces. In a number of communities where it was believed that earlier drives had harvested all the scrap, industrious committees found much that had been missed in the previous campaigns. One such community was cited by Mr. Benson who said that at New Oxford early drives had netted 11 tons but when a Lions club committee headed by Preston Dahlmeyer pressed the Scrap Harvest drive an additional 22½ tons of scrap were found.

Crossroads Drive
But the close of the Scrap Harvest campaign does not mark the end of the scrap collection drive in Adams county, Mr. Benson said today. The Crossroads Salvage drive, intended to gather quantities of scrap metal from county farms, is underway and reached its most intensive stage today with Adams Electric Cooperative employees and trucks handling the bulk of the work. C. A. Clark, Cooperative superintendent, is directing the rural collection with the Cooperative's 1,400 rural members serving as "committees of one" to locate scrap in their neighborhoods.

Standing salvage committees in county communities were asked to contact the three American Legion posts in the county and ask that they cooperate with the state American Legion drive to take "jalopies" off the road and onto the scrap heap, thereby creating an important source of scrap.

Hockey Circuit Begins 2nd Week

(By The AP)

The New Haven Eagles and the Washington Lions will be seeking their first victories of the 1942-43 American league hockey season tonight as the circuit swings into its second week of play with three games on the evening's card.

The Eagles meet the Indianapolis Capitals at New Haven and Washington entertain the Providence Reds, with the home clubs looking for the first triumphs in four starts.

The Hershey Bears, unbeaten in three tussles and leading the Eastern division, will tangle with the tail-end Pittsburgh Hornets of the Western division at Pittsburgh.

The Eastern half of the circuit still will have the Bears at its head come Thursday morning. Hershey has a four point advantage over the second place Reds and could lose no more than half of that margin tonight.

Issues New Appeal

Chairman Benson has added to the appeal for scrap metal, rubber, rags and household fats a call for used silk, nylon and rayon.

Standing salvage committees are asked to add women to help with the silk, rayon and nylon drive, Legionnaires to handle the "jalopy" campaign, and Adams Electric members to help with the Crossroads salvage drive.

Mr. Benson repeated Tuesday that the collection of tin cans has not begun in Adams county but so far has been limited to cities of 25,000 or more residents. There are no facilities here for handling the cans, he said.

ALLIES STRIVE TO CRUSH FOE IN DESERT AREA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
London, Nov. 4.—With Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's break through Marshal Rommel's left wing, the battle of Egypt is swelling rapidly toward the crisis of what may be the decisive engagement in the struggle for control of the Mediterranean area.

This is no time for prophesy but the nature of Montgomery's assault and the strength apparently massed behind it warrant the belief that he is aiming at the big target—destruction of the Axis in northern Africa.

Keep your eye on this battle. We should not let the slowness of movement in the opening days of this great struggle blind us to the fact that it represents one of the major conflicts of the whole war.

To Destroy Foe

The British commander is going about his task the direct and the hard way. However, his method is calculated to bring him the best results and his immediate objective is the destruction of Marshal Rommel's Tank Corps.

These steel monsters are the Nazi marshal's locks of Samson. Once he is short of them, his strength will be largely reduced.

True, is Montgomery's drive goes well—and it appears to be proceeding satisfactorily thus far—we may expect sensational developments.

One of these is likely to be a desperate effort by Hitler to save his servant by rushing air reinforcements to him.

And it may be assumed that the Allied high command has not just thrown Montgomery into this whirlpool and left him to sink or swim without further aid.

However, the battle still is in its early stages and we need to see more before we start counting chickens.

What has happened is this:

Frontal Attack

Montgomery suddenly flung an infantry attack—preceded by heavy bombardment from artillery and the air and followed by tanks—against one of the strongest points in Rommel's left flank.

Such a frontal attack is one of the most difficult operations in warfare. It is necessary for the infantry to lead the way because it would be suicidal to throw tanks directly against heavy artillery before the troops had broken the trail.

The ferocity of the British attack resulted in a break-through on a front of some 4,000 yards. There was bitter hand-to-hand fighting among strong Axis positions.

Rommel rushed a fleet of tanks into action in an effort to stem the advance, but the Allied Air Force, which presumably included many American warplanes, smashed the concentration and sent those tanks which were not destroyed rushing for safety.

Selects Terrain

Montgomery had chosen this strong sector for his attack because the ground was suitable for tanks. His tactics were rewarded when the infantry finally wrested Tel El Akhar—the hill of the wicked—from the enemy. This strategically important ridge and the firmer terrain about it are better adapted to tank maneuvers than the shifting sands in other sectors.

Naturally, with this increase in freedom of movement for armored forces, a big tank battle developed.

This is precisely the situation which Montgomery is aiming to create. As already indicated, his object is not to drive Axis forces back, but to catch them and utterly destroy them.

Should things go well with the Allied attack, a break-through may develop into flank movements which will result in the encirclement and annihilation of large forces of the enemy unless Rommel can avoid such task.

Here we shouldn't forget that the Nazi marshal is one of the chivalrous captains in the war. You can't say that he is beaten until you have his scalp actually at your belt.

AXIS GLOATING BACKFIRES AS KOKODA FALLS

Madrid, Nov. 4 (AP)—The fall of the little jungle village of Kokoda, which only a handful of Europeans ever had heard of until this summer, has had a tremendous effect on Europe—thanks to Axis propaganda before the tide turned against the Japanese on New Guinea.

Back in September, when the Germans became touchy about emphasizing "the last moments of Hitler" in their news releases and broadcasts, they began to give a big play to the Japanese offensive in New Guinea.

Under a Tokyo dateline they cited Japanese dispatches from Kokoda, describing it as a "Japanese base on the Australian front," told how the Japanese had General MacArthur on the run and explained it was only a matter of days until Port Moresby fell and the Japanese pounced upon northern Australia.

Axis Gloating Fades

But German propaganda now has come home to roost.

No maps appear in the German press—nor does the name of Kokoda. But small items were in the neutral press reporting Kokoda's fall and London and New York were heard broadcasting announcements of its capture.

This news was the last straw necessary to swing many doubting Thomases to the conviction that the Japanese were on the defensive. A change has come almost all at once.

The British are attacking on the African front; the U. S. Marines not only still are on Guadalcanal but actually are attacking; and finally the Japanese have lost the outstanding dateline of their Pacific war.

The result: Continental peoples are beginning to talk of things Berlin would prefer to squelch.

MOVIE STARS LOSE GLAMOR IN PAY SLASH

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—Behind the closed doors of the Internal Revenue bureau, a handful of Hollywood higher-ups today faced a dilemma more fearsome than any they ever faced.

For there, in a little plot that might be called "The 25-Grand Net Take," the Treasury's salary stabilization strategists were scrubbing a lot of glitter and gilt off the legendary movie land.

And while most of the script still was secret after more than three days of secluded study, bits of dialogue drifting out hinted definitely that Hollywood no longer could live in the style to which it had become accustomed—unless it dipped into past earnings.

Economic Director James F. Byrnes set the stage with his stabilization order limiting salaries to $25,000 net a year—but that "net" left reason to hope for many deductions.

Slash Deductions

Then the camera swung to assistant Treasury Secretary John L. Sullivan who said the flicker folks couldn't deduct the 10 per cent they pay their agents, their high cost of living, their varied personal "business" expenses or the rent on those 25-room houses in Beverly Hills. It's no secret that if some stars subtracted those expenses from $25,000, there would be nothing left but a deficit.

Sullivan also said that if an actor exceeded the limit in one year, all film firms who contributed to his total salary would be equal violators—even those who paid him long before he topped the 25 grand. Which is why some top-notch lawyers have appeared on the scene here as supporting characters.

Just Folks

CONFESSION

It must be rather difficult, with duster and with broom, To labor every morning long to tidy up a room, And when the toll is over and fair the place to see To have it all upset again by thoughtless, careless me.

It must be most annoying when you've got the parlor neat To have it trampled by someone who has failed to wipe his feet. And if it must be aggravating when you've straightened up the den To have a husband walk right in and muss it up again.

I wonder how they stand it all these brave and patient wives Who have such careless husbands, and with them must spend their lives. And I've often said "My Nellie most courageous has to be To bear the pangs of living with a heedless man like me."

SILENT WORKERS

How very much the world owes to its silent workers—those who work on, many in the dark, not knowing what may be revealed to them in the next hour or day—scientists and experimenters, astronomers, and adventurers into the unknown. Many of these great contributors to the wealth and happiness of the world go to their graves, unknown, unheralded and unsung—but an aroma of their lives touches us all, be we conscious of it or not. I walked through an art gallery recently and paused before a beautiful picture—but the description said: "Artist unknown." A silent notable in an expression of beauty—yet neglected. How tragic, yet perhaps that is what the artist wished—that his work alone might live.

There are all too many who wish only that their names may live—but such ones enjoy but a brief day, like the retiring actor after his small part has been given, the memory of his part played alone remaining.

I think of the millions of silent workers in great plants, now engaged in making the utensils of war. They, too, may become immortal—though only the memory of their achievement may live. Mothers, also, silently working out their days in the training of their children—asking nothing, receiving little, but satisfied to be silent workers, that fact alone compensation enough.

The most useful engine is not the one that makes the most noise! The silent workers are really the ones who carry on the bulk of the work of the world. Many a shut-in is a hero or heroine—uncrowned or undecorated. I have known of many a one whose influence has been as a beacon light, reaching far into many a darkened heart.

Many years ago a gentleman put me on his list to get unusual and inspiring bits that he clipped from time to time, and he did this for scores of others. He was a retired engineer and took this method of bringing encouragement to people. He never wanted any publicity about it, however—just to remain a silent unknown, doing what he could to keep the light burning in the window of many lives. I missed his kindly cheer when his own life-light went out, as did all the others, I am sure.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Digging In."

Allies Continue Forward Move Against Rommel

OFFENSIVE IN HIGH GEAR ON ENTIRE FRONT

By EDWARD KENNEDY

Cairo, Nov. 4 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's Army of the Nile has followed up its first victory over Field Marshal Rommel's tanks by smashing on beyond Sidi Abd El Rahman, 18 miles west of El Alamein on the coastal railroad, hurling the Axis back almost half way to El Daba from its deepest gain in Egypt.

A British communique indicated today that the Eighth Army's offensive has gone into high gear along the whole front. It declared that the British also hurled back the Germans and Italians at the southern flank of the desert battle-zone, capturing the strong points of Deir El Angar Munassib and Himeimat.

"In Full Retreat"

In London one British source declared that "the enemy seems to be in full retreat," and it appeared that Montgomery had brought into action the greatest striking force of armor and air power yet engaged in the fight for north Africa.

Recaptured Deir El Angar Munassib is slightly more than 20 miles south-southwest of El Alamein where the now-retreat Axis defense line slanted across the desert ridges toward its southern anchor on the edge of the Qattara salt marshes. Himeimat is eight to ten miles farther south, almost at the edge of the Qattara depression.

The gains at the two flanks, following up the Eighth Army's tank-victory in Monday's six-hour battle of Tel El Akakir—the hill of wicked men—indicated that the whole bitterly-defended Axis line was being rolled back.

Continue Advance

"The Eighth Army advanced again during the night of November 3," the British war bulletin reported.

"In the north, excepting the coastal sector where Axis forces are hemmed in between the railway and the sea the enemy was driven to the west of Sidi and El Rahman. "In the southern sector the enemy fell back from their positions at Deir El Angar Munassib and Himeimat, which were occupied by our troops."

Recommend Food Banks For Disaster

Harrisburg, Nov. 4 (AP)—Food banks to provide emergency rations in case of air raids or other disasters have been recommended to Pennsylvania's counties by the state Defense Council.

Mrs. H. B. Ellison, victory garden chairman, reported Monday that Bucks county had established 23 food banks, Montgomery county had stored four tons of food and Delaware county had set up a two-ton reserve.

The Defense Council urged county units to ask for donations of surplus cans or jars of non-perishable food including fruits and vegetables as well as smoked meats and eggs conserved in water glass.

Titusville First To Report Totals

Titusville, Pa., Nov. 4 (AP)—Titusville was the first Pennsylvania city reporting its complete vote in yesterday's election, finishing the tally within 25 minutes after the polls closed.

The vote for six districts gave Adjutant General Edward Martin a plurality of 784 votes for governor over Auditor General F. Clair Ross, 1,209 to 425. Titusville's population (1940 census) is 8,126.

Ruth Zelders, Frances Wible, Miriam Taylor and Constance Weaver. Miss Helen Wallick, of York, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Francis, Washington street. Clyde Mumper, Baltimore street, has gone to North Carolina to spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Sanders were given a kitchen shower by their many friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Marshall Mehring, on Friday evening. James King and E. C. Shriver, of East Middle street, have gone to Jacksonville, Florida, where they will be employed for the next several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Weikert, of Philadelphia, were Gettysburg visitors Sunday. Harry W. Long has returned to Harrisburg for the winter.

'Praise The Lord' Chaplain Denies Manning Gun

Father William A. Maguire (right), Roman Catholic Naval captain and Chaplain of the Pacific Fleet during the Pearl Harbor attack, explains some of his decorations to newsmen (left) as he denies he "manned a gun" during the attack. In an interview in New York, he explained that he had no recollection of using the phrase "Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition" for which he has been credited and said that to have manned a gun would have violated international law regarding the conduct of chaplains. He is a native of Hornell, N. Y.

"TEAM WORK"

Elkhart, Ind. (AP)—City detectives solved a series of burglaries here with basketball plays—and here's how that trick was done:

Investigating a restaurant burglary, officers found a set of basketball plays. On a tour of county schools they found the coach who had issued copies of the plays to his team.

The boys were told to turn in their copies and the youth who was unable to do so quickly pleaded guilty to the restaurant job and several others.

SENATORS WANT BARKLEY NAMED TO HIGH COURT

By JACK BELL

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—A round robin urging President Roosevelt to appoint Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky to the Supreme Court was in circulation among members of the Senate Tuesday with the prospect that it soon would be signed by a bipartisan majority.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), who addressed the letter to the President, told reporters he was convinced no more suitable man than Barkley could be found to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Associate Justice James F. Byrnes to become economic stabilization director.

Few politically-minded legislators gave Barkley much more than an outside chance for the appointment. A move vacating the Senate majority leadership would be almost certain to be followed by a hot contest which might find the administration hard pressed to keep this highly important position in entirely friendly hands.

The round robin petition, outlining the 64-year-old Democratic leader's record during 29 years in Congress, was reported to bear the signatures of several Republicans, as well as most of the Democratic Senators who were in town.

Barkley, who served as prosecuting attorney and county judge of McCracken county, Kentucky, before his election to the House in 1913, has been majority leader of the Senate since 1937 when he defeated the late Senator Pat Harrison (D-Miss.) for that post by one vote. Most conjecture in Congress has centered around the possibility that the President might appoint Solicitor General Charles Fahy or Attorney General Francis Biddle to the court post but there have been suggestions that Mr. Roosevelt could do worse than name a western Republican.

OFF THE AIR

London, Nov. 4 (AP)—The British were without an explanation today for the sudden departure from the air early last night of the principal continental broadcasting stations. Closing down of the stations usually is an indication that the RAF is out on a night raid but there were no reports today of a night bombing of either German or Italian targets.

'Praise The Lord' Author

Lieut. (Senior Grade) Howell Forgy (above), U.S. Navy chaplain from Haddonfield, N. J., has been revealed in Pearl Harbor as the real author of the phrase "Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition," variously attributed to several chaplains. Forgy, 34, was attached to a heavy cruiser during the December 7 attack on Pearl Harbor.

Biddle still is minister of Czechoslovakia.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guen

CONFESSION

It must be rather difficult, with duster and with broom,

To labor every morning long to tidy up a room,

And when the toll is over and fair

the place to see

To have it all upset again by thoughtless, careless me.

It must be most annoying when you've got the parlor neat

To have it tracked by someone who has failed to wipe his feet.

And if must be aggravating when you've straightened up the den

To have a husband walk right in and mess it up again.

I wonder how they stand it all these brave and patient wives

Who have such careless husbands and with them must spend their lives.

And I've often said "My Nellie most courageous has to be

To bear the pangs of living with a headless man like me."

SILENT WORKERS

How very much the world owes to its silent workers—those who work on many in the dark, not knowing what may be revealed to them in the next hour or day—scientists and experimenters, astronomers, and adventurers into the unknown.

Many of these great contributors to the world's health and happiness, of the world go to their graves, unknown, unheralded and unsung—but an aroma of their lives touches us all, be we conscious of it or not. I walked through an art gallery recently and paused before a beautiful picture—but the description said:

"Artist unknown!" A silent notable in an expression of beauty—yet neglected. How tragic, yet perhaps that is what the artist wished —that his work alone might live.

There are all too many who wish only that their names may live—

but such ones enjoy but a brief day, like the retiring actor after his small part has been given, the memory of his part played alone remaining.

I think of the millions of silent workers in great plants, now engaged in making the utensils of war.

They, too, may become immortal—though only the memory of their achievement may live. Mothers, also, silently working out their days in the training of their children—asking nothing, receiving little, but satisfied to be silent workers, that fact alone compensation enough.

The most useful engine is not the one that makes the most noise! The silent workers are really the ones who carry on the bulk of the work of the world. Many a shut-in is a hero or heroine—unknown or undecorated. I have known of many a one whose influence has been as a beacon light, reaching far into many a darkened heart.

Many years ago a gentleman put me on his list to get unusual and inspiring bits that he clipped from time to time, and he did this for scores of others. He was a retired engineer and took this method of bringing encouragement to people.

He never wanted any publicity about it, however, just to remain a silent unknown, doing what he could to keep the light burning in the window of many lives. I missed his kindly cheer when his own life-light went out, as did all the others, I am sure.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Digging In."

Voters Place Control Of State Senate And House In Hands Of Republicans

WIN 28 SEATS IN SENATE AND 116 IN HOUSE

Philadelphia, Nov. 4 (AP)—Republicans took over both branches of the Legislature in yesterday's balloting, ending the divided political control of the outgoing assembly in which Democrats held a majority in the House and the GOP dominated the Senate.

Governor elect Edward Martin, Republican, thus will have a Legislature ruled by his own party for the start of his administration, as did retiring Governor Arthur H. James.

The Republican membership in the House was increased from the present 82 to 116 on the basis of returns early today. Democrats, who had previously held a majority of 126, dropped to 61, with the contest for 30 seats still unrecorded. A minimum of 105 members is required for a majority to elect a speaker and other officers of the House.

28 In Senate
In the Senate, Republicans were assured of at least 28 seats and the Democrats 18, with three undecided in early returns. The present lineup is 32 Republicans and 18 Democrats. Thirty-four votes are needed to confirm Martin's cabinet.

While all 308 House seats were filled, only half the Senate, or 25 places, were voted on.

One Republican Senator was defeated for re-election—Charles A. P. Bartlett, of Northampton. He was unseated by Rep. Carleton T. Woodring, Democrat. Republican Louis H. Farrell, Philadelphia, apparently had been named by Democrat Henry M. Dubbs, Jr., but the outcome still was in doubt.

Senator Anthony J. Cavalcante, fiery Fayette Democrat, met formidable opposition from Republican Edwin Bowers of Point Marion, with less than 50 votes separating them as returns neared completion. The 243 absentee ballots sent to soldiers were expected to have a bearing on the outcome.

Leaders Returned
A Republican was elected to the vacant seat of Robert M. Miller, now Luzerne county controller. U. S. Rep. Elmer J. Holland, was elected to the place vacated by Edward R. Frey, Democrat, Pittsburgh city controller.

All three Senate floor leaders were returned. They are Charles H. Ealy (R-Somerset), president pro tempore; James A. Geitz (R-Allegheny), majority floor leader; and B. B. McGinnis (D-Allegheny), minority floor leader.

The House leadership is wide open, since former Republican floor leaders Elwood J. Turner and Robert E. Woodside are no longer members, and Democratic Speaker Elmer Kilroy and floor leader Leo A. Acherman were defeated for statewide offices to which they aspired in lieu of the House posts.

Senate Winners
Winners for the state Senate included: x-Incumbent

HAMILTON FISH IS RE-ELECTED

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—The combined assault of the Democratic and American Labor parties, plus Republican defection, today apparently had failed to unseat U. S. Representative Hamilton Fish, pre-Pearl Harbor isolationist and frequent critic of President Roosevelt's policies.

With returns in from 194 election districts of the 225 in the President's home congressional district, the 26th, Fish held a 3,777-vote lead over Ferdinand A. Hoyt, the Democratic and ALP candidate.

The vote: Fish 42,063; Hoyt 38,286. Fish claimed victory last night and in a statement charged that the campaign against him was "based on abuse and vilification."

"It was planned and organized for months by the Communists, Reds and leftwing New Dealers to impugn my character, patriotism and Americanism in order to deceive the people and to purge me for trying to keep America out of war unless attacked, and for outspoken opposition to the regimentation and collectivization of the New Deal and its Gestapo methods that threaten free government," he said.

Martin Trails In Home County

Pittsburgh, Nov. 4 (AP)—Governor Elect Edward Martin carried western Pennsylvania in his triumph over Democrat F. Clair Ross, although he trailed in incomplete returns today in seven of the 27 counties, including his home county of Washington.

Pittsburgh and Allegheny county, home of Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence, failed to turn in the 32,000 plurality it gave Charles Alvin Jones four years ago, when he was defeated by Governor Arthur H. James.

The Allegheny county vote in 928 of 1,012 districts was Ross 180,646, Martin 157,982, a Democratic margin of 22,664.

Martin took his home district in Washington by an 8 to 1 margin.

REPUBLICANS REAP HARVEST AT U.S. POLLS

(By The Associated Press)
Republicans counted today a rich harvest of wartime votes that elected Thomas E. Dewey governor of New York, ended the 30-year Senate career of aging Independent George Norris of Nebraska and turned Democrats out of state and national office by the score.

Depending chiefly on the final tabulation of congressional results, the Republican victory in yesterday's election held the possibility of being the greatest since Herbert Hoover was elected president in 1928.

It certainly assured the party's national leaders of what they had appealed for during the campaign—the strength to offer an effective "conservative" opposition to President Roosevelt's program for governing the nation at war.

Visual Summary
With returns still coming in, the results stood this way early today:

Senatorial races: 24 Democratic, 9 Republican and one Independent seats were at stake. Democrats had elected 12 senators and were leading in four races; Republicans had elected 12 and were leading in six. Republicans had gained six Democratic seats, in Iowa, New Jersey, Delaware, South Dakota, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

Governorship contests: 18 Democratic and 15 Republican offices were at stake. Democrats had elected eight governors and were leading in five races; Republicans had elected 14 and were leading in five. Republicans had gained three Democratic governorships, in California, Connecticut and New York.

House races: 264 Democratic, 166 Republican, 3 Progressive, one Farmer-Labor and one American-Labor seats at stake. Democrats had elected 154, Republicans 133 and American-Labor one. Republicans had picked up 21 Democratic seats and had lost one place to the Democrats. A total of 147 House contests were still in doubt.

Elected To Legislature

Francis Worley, of Latimore township, who defeated George L. Baugher, present incumbent, as Adams county's representative in the lower house of the state legislature.

EDITOR'S WIFE WINS AT POLLS

By RUTH COWAN

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—Blonde, blue-eyed glamorous Clare Boothe Luce, playwright, author and wartime globe-trotter, can now write after her name: Republican representative from Connecticut.

Mrs. Luce, wife of the editor of Life magazine, won her first political campaign, and at the opening session of the 78th Congress in January she will take her place in the House with Mrs. Mary T. Norton, Democrat, whom New Jersey voters returned for her 10th term, and four Republican women who were reelected. They were:

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, unopposed in her Massachusetts district; Jessie Sumner of Illinois, Mrs. Frances Bolton of Ohio, and Margaret Smith of Maine. The latter was elected in September.

Mrs. Roosevelt Beaten

In Michigan Mrs. Dorothy Kemp Roosevelt (D) divorced wife of the late G. Hall Roosevelt, brother of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, was defeated as was a fellow Democrat, Inez Peel, who campaigned for representative-at-large in Pennsylvania. In Illinois, Mrs. Rena Pikel (R) lost.

Mrs. Veronica Boland (D) was unopposed for election to finish out the unexpired term of her late husband, Rep. Pat Boland of Pennsylvania, ending Jan. 3, 1943. She was not a candidate for the two year term.

The House can expect some lively sessions next year, for Mrs. Luce has pitched into politics with the same vim with which she wrote successful plays—"The Women," "Kiss the Boys Goodbye"—and books and asked about Europe and Asia writing for magazines.

Progressive Beats Wisconsin Governor

Milwaukee, Nov. 4 (Wednesday) (AP)—A Progressive, Orland S. Loomis, defeated Republican Governor Julius P. Heil, Republican incumbent, on the basis of nearly complete unofficial returns from Tuesday's Wisconsin gubernatorial election.

The vote in 2,537 out of 3,065 precincts:

Loomis 285,396; Heil 228,103; Dr. W. C. Sullivan (D) 64,917; Frank Zeidler (S) 5,047.

Dry-Camp Forces Defeated At Polls

Boston, Nov. 4 (AP)—An effort by dry forces to ban the sale of liquor in areas surrounding big Army cantonments in Massachusetts went down to defeat in the state election—with the soldiers themselves casting few ballots.

The drys waged an active campaign in the Camp Edwards vicinity on Cape Cod, but the towns adjacent to the camp—Barnstable and Falmouth—which were wet, stayed wet in a referendum vote.

ACTORS ARE NABBED

Philadelphia, Nov. 4 (AP)—Three Hedgehog theater actors were ordered to entrain today for civilian work camps for conscientious objectors. The three—Joseph Leberman, Jr., George C. Ebling, Jr., and Morgan T. Smalley, Jr.—were reclassified from 1-A over the objections of their draft board.

Beats Ross In Home District

Butler, Pa., Nov. 4 (AP)—

Adjutant General Edward Martin, governor-elect, polled a more than two to one vote in the home district of his democratic opponent, Auditor General F. Clair Ross.

The second precinct of the fourth ward, where Ross voted yesterday, reported its vote at 397 for Martin and 137 for Ross. It is normally a republican district.

FRIENDS LAUD MARTIN UPON HIS VICTORY

Washington, Pa., Nov. 4 (AP)—Neighbors, friends and political associates paraded to the home of Adjutant General Edward Martin early today to felicitate him upon his victory in yesterday's election over F. Clair Ross, the Democratic nominee.

The 63-year-old soldier-politician was seated in his living room with members of his family and a group of about 15 neighbors when the word came that Ross had conceded his election.

Martin quietly issued this statement: "Of course I am most appreciative of the high honor conferred upon me and I thank the voters for their enthusiastic support."

The telephone jangled almost constantly as friends from all over the state sought to extend congratulations. At the front door of the Martin home a crowd of well-wishers had gathered, and the General was kept busy for an hour accepting greetings.

A Tired Man

Early in the morning the Governor-elect went to bed, and an associate described him as "just about the tireddest man I ever saw."

There was no spectacular celebration in little Washington—just the quiet felicitations of those who knew him.

The Governor-Elect's home town had given him a comfortable margin over Ross, and the victor led in his own precinct 8 to 1, but he trailed Ross in Washington county on the basis of incomplete returns.

His immediate plans remained undisclosed. One thing was certain, however—the small pocket testament he received from his boyhood sweetheart back in 1895 will be the bible upon which he takes the oath of office in Harrisburg next January.

That sweetheart, Charity, Scott, became his wife in 1908. The testament has become the record book of Martin's career highlights, and few Pennsylvanians ever put in a busier life at more varied jobs than has Edward Martin.

In Three Wars

He fought in three wars, practiced law, directed Republican strategy in the state as that party's state chairman, served as state treasurer, auditor general, adjutant general and commanded the Pennsylvania National Guard.

The Martins have two children, Mrs. Murphy and Edward, Jr. The son is carrying on General Martin's love of soldiering as a captain with his father's old division—the Pennsylvania 28th.

Martin will be the first Governor from western Pennsylvania in 15 years. Governor John S. Fisher, Indiana, was elected in 1927 and there have been no other western Pennsylvania chief executives since.

FARMERS TURN OUT NEW DEAL

By OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—The midwestern farm belt, from which the Roosevelt Administration once drew inspiration and overwhelming support for its precedent-breaking agricultural aid programs, marched well to the front in the Republican victory parade yesterday.

In the wheat, corn, hog, cattle, and dairy states of the trans-Mississippi and Great Plains regions, an upsurge of Republican votes swept many ardent New Dealers from Congressional seats and returned to office most of those who stood against the Administration in recent battles over control of farm prices.

Perhaps typifying midwestern voting was the defeat of Senator Prentiss Brown, Michigan Democrat who managed the Administration's anti-inflation bill—legislation which aroused the ire of a powerful Senatorial farm bloc and farm organizations with strong followings in the Midwest.

Herring Defeated

Similarly, Iowa—home state of Vice President Wallace, who, incidentally, had perhaps more to do with formulating and developing New Deal farm programs than any other man—turned Democratic Senator Clyde Herring out of office, although he had generally aligned himself with the farm bloc.

Other farm states in which Republicans gained strength or held their own included Missouri, Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Indiana, Ohio, Colorado, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Colorado and Oklahoma.

Democrats and Republicans alike agreed that the midwestern attitude toward Administration war policies affecting agriculture played a major role in the outcome.

Governor Of New York

WIN 28 SEATS IN SENATE AND 116 IN HOUSE

Philadelphia, Nov. 4 (AP)—Republicans took over both branches of the Legislature in yesterday's balloting, ending the divided political control of the outgoing assembly in which Democrats held a majority in the House and the GOP dominated the Senate.

Governor elect Edward Martin, Republican, thus will have a Legislature ruled by his own party for the start of his administration, as did retiring Governor Arthur H. James.

The Republican membership in the House was increased from the present 82 to 116 on the basis of returns early today. Democrats, who had previously held a majority of 126, dropped to 61, with the contest for 30 seats still unrecorded. A minimum of 105 members is required for a majority to elect a speaker and other officers of the House.

28 In Senate
In the Senate, Republicans were assured of at least 28 seats and the Democrats 18, with three undecided in early returns. The present lineup is 32 Republicans and 18 Democrats. Thirty-four votes are needed to confirm Martin's cabinet.

While all 208 House seats were filled, only half the Senate, or 25 places, were voted on.

One Republican Senator was defeated for re-election—Charles A. P. Bartlett, of Northampton. He was unseated by Rep. Carleton T. Woodring, Democrat. Republican Louis H. Farrell, Philadelphia, apparently had been nosed by Democrat Henry M. Dubs, Jr., but the outcome still was in doubt.

Senator Anthony J. Cavalcante, fiery Fayette Democrat, met formidable opposition from Republican Edwin Bowers of Point Marion, with less than 50 votes separating them as returns neared completion. The 243 absentee ballots sent to soldiers were expected to have a bearing on the outcome.

Leaders Returned
A Republican was elected to the vacant seat of Robert M. Miller, now Luzerne county controller. U. S. Rep. Elmer J. Holland, was elected to the place vacated by Edward R. Frey, Democrat, Pittsburgh city controller.

All three Senate floor leaders were returned. They are Charles H. Ealy (R-Somerset), president pro tempore; James A. Galtz (R-Allegheny), majority floor leader; and B. B. McGinnis (D-Allegheny), minority floor leader.

The House leadership is wide open, since former Republican floor leaders Ellwood J. Turner and Robert E. Woodside are no longer members, and Democratic Speaker Elmer Kibroy and floor leader Leo A. Acherman were defeated for statewide offices to which they aspired in lieu of the House posts.

HAMILTON FISH IS RE-ELECTED

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—The combined result of the Democratic and American Labor parties, plus Republican defection, today apparently had failed to unseat U. S. Representative Hamilton Fish pre-Poston Harbor reelection and frequent critic of President Roosevelt's policies.

With returns in from 194 election districts of the 25th in the President's home congressional district, the 26th Fish held a 3,777-vote lead over Ferdinand A. Hoyt, the Democratic and ALP candidate.

The vote: Fish 42,663; Hoyt 32,266. Fish claimed victory last night and in a statement charged that the campaign against him was "based on abuse and vilification."

"It was planned and organized for months by the Communists, Reds and Leftwing New Dealers to impugn my character, patriotism and Americanism in order to deceive the people and to purge me for trying to keep America out of war unless attacked, and for outspoken opposition to the regimentation and totalitarianism of the New Deal and its Gestapo methods that threaten free government," he said.

Martin Trails In Home County

Pittsburgh, Nov. 4 (AP)—Governor Elect Edward Martin carried western Pennsylvania in his triumph over Democrat F. Clair Ross, although he trailed in incomplete returns today in seven of the 27 counties, including his home county of Washington.

Pittsburgh and Allegheny county, home of Democratic State Chairman David L. Lawrence, failed to turn in the 32,603 plurality it gave Charles Alvin Jones four years ago, when he was defeated by Governor Arthur H. James.

The Allegheny county vote in 928 of 1,012 districts was Ross 180,646, Martin 157,982, a Democratic margin of 22,664.

Martin took his home district in Washington by an 8 to 1 margin.

REPUBLICANS REAP HARVEST AT U.S. POLLS

(By The Associated Press)
Republicans counted today a rich harvest of wartime votes that elected Thomas E. Dewey governor of New York, ended the 30-year Senate career of aging Independent George Norris of Nebraska and turned Democrats out of state and national office by the score.

Depending chiefly on the final tabulation of congressional results, the Republican victory in yesterday's election held the possibility of being the greatest since Herbert Hoover was elected president in 1928.

It certainly assured the party's national leaders of what they had appealed for during the campaign—the strength to offer an effective "conservative" opposition to President Roosevelt's program for governing the nation at war.

Visual Summary
With returns still coming in, the results stood this way early today: Senatorial races: 24 Democratic, 9 Republican and one Independent seats were at stake. Democrats had elected 12 senators and were leading in four races; Republicans had elected 12 and were leading in six.

Republicans had gained six Democratic seats, in Iowa, New Jersey, Delaware, South Dakota, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

Governorship contests: 18 Democratic and 15 Republican offices were at stake. Democrats had elected eight governors and were leading in five races; Republicans had elected 14 and were leading in five. Republicans had gained three Democratic governorships, in California, Connecticut and New York.

House races: 264 Democratic, 166 Republican, 3 Progressive, one Farmer-Labor and one American-Labor seats at stake. Democrats had elected 154, Republicans 133 and American-Labor one. Republicans had picked up 21 Democratic seats and had lost one place to the Democrats. A total of 147 House contests were still in doubt.

EDITOR'S WIFE WINS AT POLLS

(By RUTH COWAN)

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—Blonde, blue-eyed glamorous Clare Boothe Luce, playwright, author and wartime globe-trotter, can now write after her name: Republican representative from Connecticut.

Mrs. Luce, wife of the editor of Life magazine, won her first political campaign, and at the opening session of the 78th Congress in January she will take her place in the House with Mrs. Mary T. Norton, Democrat, whom New Jersey voters returned for her 10th term, and four Republican women who were reelected. They were:

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, unopposed in her Massachusetts district; Jessie Sumner of Illinois; Mrs. Frances Bolton of Ohio; and Margaret Smith of Maine. The latter was elected in September.

In Michigan Mrs. Dorothy Kemp Roosevelt (D) divorced wife of the late C. Hall Roosevelt, brother of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, was defeated as was a fellow Democrat, Inez Peel, who campaigned for representative at-large in Pennsylvania, in Illinois, Mrs. Rena Pikel (R) lost.

Mrs. Veronica Boland (D) was unopposed for election to finish out the unexpired term of her late husband, Rep. Pat Boland of Pennsylvania, ending Jan. 3, 1943. She was not a candidate for the two year term.

The House can expect some lively sessions next year, for Mrs. Luce has pitched into politics with the same vim with which she wrote successful plays—"The Women," "Kiss the Boys Goodbye"—and books and asked about Europe and Asia writing for magazines.

Progressive Beats Wisconsin Governor

Milwaukee, Nov. 4 (Wednesday) (AP)—A Progressive, Orland S. Loomis, defeated Republican Governor Julius P. Heil, Republican incumbent, on the basis of nearly complete unofficial returns from Tuesday's Wisconsin gubernatorial election.

Dry-Camp Forces Defeated At Polls

Boston, Nov. 4 (AP)—An effort by dry forces to ban the sale of liquor in areas surrounding big Army cantonments in Massachusetts went down to defeat in the state election—with the soldiers themselves casting few ballots.

The dries waged an active campaign in the Cape Cod, Barnstable and Falmouth—which were wet, stayed wet in a referendum vote.

ACTORS ARE NABBED

Philadelphia, Nov. 4 (AP)—Three Hedgerow theater actors were ordered to entrain today for civilian work camps for conscientious objectors. The three—Joseph Leberman, Jr., George C. Ebling, Jr., and Morgan T. Simms, Jr.—were reclassified from 1-A over the objection of their draft board.
